

Virus

A computer virus is software that has been designed to cause problems to a computer or steal information without the owner of the computer knowing.

Email

Email is a way of composing, sending and receiving electronic messages over the internet.

